Vehicle Description

First registered April 1953 this immaculate MG TD "Midget" has had just three private owners from new: the first from 1953 to 1993 (Forty Years); the second, from 1993 to 2015 and the most recent to date. It is only being sold as the current owner has recently moved to a retirement complex without suitable garaging.

The forerunner to our TD the MG TC is quite accurately described as the (specific) car that caused the Sport Car "craze" in America. The TC was quite similar to the pre-war TB, sharing the same 1,250 cc pushrod-OHV engine with a slightly higher compression ratio of 7.4:1 giving 54.5 bhp at 5200 rpm. The TD Midget announced in January 1950 combined the TC's drive-train, a modified hypoid-gear rear axle, the MG V-type chassis, a familiar T-type style body and independent suspension on front axle using coil
